Help Center Bill Simmons's new podcast breaks down the NBA's most important games, players, and teams, extending and reinventing his New York Times no. 1 bestselling book from 2009. Playing off the NBA's dramatic changes during the past decade, Bill uses new commentary and fresh interviews with players and top media members to determine how the league has evolved and where it's headed.Produced by Bill Simmons and Kyle Crichton Music by Jackson Lowe Lyrics and vocals by Tic Tac and Melatonin 7. Shaq and Kobe | Icons Club Kobe Bryant and Shaquille O'Neal are one of the most successful—and combustible—duos in NBA history. Their contrasting styles led to tension in the locker room, but dominance on the court. And in the end, each of them changed the rules of the Icons Club forever, just maybe not in the way you'd expect.Host: Jackie MacMullanProducers: Bobby Wagner, Kaya McMullen, Noah Malale, Jonathan Kermah, Isaac Lee, Justin Verrier, and Vikram PatelSound Design: Scott SomervilleTheme Song: Devon RenaldoLearn more about your ad choices. The Dream Team | Icons Club The Dream Team was an unprecedented experiment for the Icons Club—an opportunity for the game's best players to form bonds and swap notes. It also gave the NBA a chance to show off its best players to the world, and the league did not miss.Host: Jackie MacMullanProducers: Bobby Wagner, Noah Malale, Jonathan Kermah, Isaac Lee, Justin Verrier and Vikram PatelSound Design: Scott SomervilleTheme Song: Devon RenaldoLearn more about your ad choices. But Jordan himself explains how he pulled from Dr. J's business acumen and Magic's charisma to chart his flight, and even offered pointers to certain icons who followed in his footsteps.Host: Jackie MacMullanProducers: Bobby Wagner, Noah Malale, Jonathan Kermah, Isaac Lee, Justin Verrier and Vikram PatelSound Design: Scott SomervilleTheme Song: Devon RenaldoLearn more about your ad choices. On-court battles between these bitter foes showed a ravenous public just how enticing the NBA could be. But how about Magic and Larry: friends? In this episode, Jackie compares and contrasts the icons of the '80s, tracing a bond how that went well beyond the court.Host: Jackie MacMullanProducers: Bobby Wagner, Noah Malale, Jonathan Kermah, Isaac Lee, Justin Verrier and Vikram PatelSound Design: Scott SomervilleTheme Song: Devon RenaldoLearn more about your ad choices. Visit podcastchoices.com/adchoices 2. Dr. J and the ABA | Icons Club Julius Erving ushered in a new era of the Icons Club. His unique style, on and off the court, brought a jolt to the game and opened doors to new marketing opportunities. And even as punches flew during his era, Dr. J forged relationships with his peers—and future icons, like Michael Jordan—that made him arguably the most beloved member of the club.Host: Jackie MacMullanProducers: Bobby Wagner, Noah Malale, Jonathan Kermah, Isaac Lee, Justin Verrier, and Vikram PatelSound Design: Scott SomervilleTheme Song: Devon RenaldoLearn more about your ad choices. Great series well done Jackie, Sean, and the team! Love seeing Jackie get a well deserved platform!!!! Filed under: Kobe Bryant's Greatest Move? Getting Michael Jordan to Share His Secrets Episode 7 of 'Icons Club' focuses on Shaq and Kobe, but also delves into Mamba's determination to learn everything he could from his idol By Jackie MacMullan April 8 Filed under: Membership in the Icons Club Requires More Than Just On-Court Greatness Being elite gets you a seat at the table. But popularity is what gets you a lifetime pass. A handful of players had all the NBA bona fides to qualify for Icon status, but for one reason or another didn't end up in the club.
